RACE 1: BRITISH STALLION STUDS EBF MAIDEN FILLIES' STAKES (GBB RACE)

Night Candle

Baileys Liberty

Form Of Praise

NIGHT CANDLE ran well after being squeezed out at the start when fourth at Salisbury on her debut 10 days ago and the Mehmas filly could have more to offer for Richard Hannon. That effort came on soft ground and the two-year-old looked to handle it well, so that offers some hope ahead of this test. Baileys Liberty was third on her debut at Hamilton last week, while of the newcomers, 100,000 pounds yearling Form Of Praise is fancied to prove best.

Nankeen

Western Alliance

Big Meeting

NANKEEN was a game winner on his debut for the Crisford team at Windsor three weeks ago and could make it 2-2 under James Doyle. The Dubawi gelding carries a 7lb penalty, but should have learnt plenty from the run and his dam did win on heavy ground in Ireland. Western Alliance showed promise when third at Wolverhampton in December, while Big Meeting represents connections who do well here but he has already been gelded ahead of this first outing at the age of four.

Kolisi Ranchero Storm Catcher

KOLISI wasn't suited by a small field at Ripon on his debut when only beating one home four weeks ago and should find this test more to his liking. The Harzand gelding drops in trip at this more conventional track and shouldn't be inconvenienced by the potential slow ground. Ranchero has finished second in both career outings so far and is fancied to go one better soon, while Storm Catcher took a few people by surprise when scoring at Kempton on his first day at school 44 days ago.

Vino Santo Devil's Cub Final Fantasy

Devil's Cub was always doing enough when returned to turf at Bath earlier this month and Tom Ward's charge could figure once again. However, a 5lb rise makes him vulnerable to VINO SANTO, who rattled the crossbar at Chelmsford last time and is only 1lb higher here. Final Fantasy has won his last two at this distance and could leave a disappointing effort up at 10 furlongs in the past, while One For The Ladies outran her odds to finish third here last time and could be one for punters, this time off a 1lb lower rating.

RACE 5: RACINGTV.COM HANDICAP

Brentford Hope Qaysar Mustarrid

Listed race winner Qaysar sets a good standard but he's there to be shot at under top-weight and may be worth taking on with BRENTFORD HOPE. Richard Hughes' gelding looked in need of the run at Windsor on his return but that should have put him spot-on for this and his hugely impressive soft ground win over this trip at Haydock (7lb lower mark) is still hard to forget. Course and distance winners King Carney and Mustarrid are also entitled to respect even though neither covered themselves in glory on their respective reappearances.
