PAMELA BOUM (8) put her act together to win a good race and from an ideal gate, she should be bang there at the finish. GRIGNETTE (6) is in fine form at present and with Mikael Barzalona in the irons once again, she will have every chance of landing that hat-trick. Summary: A fascinating and highly competitive contest, where several runners bring strong credentials to the table. DERAWAR (1) shapes as though the step up to this classic distance will bring out further improvement and makes a lot of appeal. RUMORISTE (8) should also be well suited by this demanding test and is expected to come home strongly if settling into a rhythm early. Summary: This looks a good opportunity for LE ROI LEON (6), who signaled a return to form with an encouraging effort at Saint-Cloud last time out. If building on that performance, he could take plenty of beating. Veteran campaigner NEPALAIS (2) is more than capable of producing a decisive turn of foot late on and rates a major danger if the race is run to suit. KALAFa (8) also commands respect after a very solid performance over this course and distance recently. DRUIDE (4) may need to be ridden patiently over this trip, but his finishing speed can be devastating if delivered at the right moment.

THURSDAY, 14/05/26

Summary: Still relatively unexposed, ISNEAUVILLE (8) produced a performance of real promise at Lyon-Parilly last time. Conditions should play firmly to her strengths here. OMICRONE (1) has previously contested stronger races than this and now drops into calmer waters against her own sex. If the potentially gluey surface does not inconvenience her, she has the class to play a leading role. The shortlist also includes CITY BABE (11), whose two comeback runs are best ignored, FREJA (10), who looks highly competitive from her current rating, and THE SHADOW (6), who caught the eye with a convincing effort at Compiègne last time out.

Summary: Preference is for (6) METS LE FEU, who may still lack the experience but looks to possess the raw ability required to land a contest of this nature. Next best could be (9) UMAMI, whose recent finishing positions do not tell the full story. He shaped better than the bare result on each of his last two starts and could be ready to strike. (7) PERGOLOR is another worth close consideration. Now attractively treated, it would come as no surprise were he to bounce back to form. Completing the shortlist is (5) MON BLACK DU LIVET, who appears to be gradually working his way back to peak fitness.
