Race Preview: Mohave Prince was a tremendous second to the promising Green Gateway at just his second outing. He has a good draw and has a strong winning chance. Global Warrior raced green at long odds on debut but the winner Soldier Boy was deemed good enough to line up in Gr1 company. Wonderful Tonight was narrowly beaten over course and distance on debut and with that experience should be in the firing line. Carnarvon has useful Highveld form over the trip and has a strong winning chance. Master Du Rouvray has a wide draw and has been rested but shows some promise from an inform stable.

Race Preview: Catch A Penny has placed in all 10 starts and should go close again. Splash Of Love stays the trip. She should feature prominently in this line-up. Omnia has only had three outings and her best effort was over course and distance. Intro has put in two fair efforts with blinkers for her new stable.

Race Preview: Mark Khan makes his first visit to KZN as a trainer and saddles two runners here. Best could be Solar Sail who has taken his chances in top company. This should be on the short side but he does have a touch of class. Go Grayson Go has been knocking at the door and is well in at the weights. This trip will suit. Two Miles West has not been out of the money in his last four starts. The trip will suit and he has a neat draw. Khan's second runner, Coppola is effective over the trip but has a wide draw to contend with.

Race Preview: Capricious Miss got a 10-points hike in the ratings after her much improved last run. She obviously enjoyed the poly and from pole position she should be competitive again. At the other end of the barrier, Chercherilady has her first run for Paul Gadsby. She comes with some fair Highveld form and does not meet a strong field. Ms Galore caught the eye in all three of her starts suggesting that she is much better than her form would suggest. She has been rested but comes from a form stable. Di Rosa is seldom too far back but struggling for her maiden win.

Race Preview: One Irish Rover was narrowly beaten by his stable companion Lou The Legend last time out on the poly. His last win was over this distance. Lions Eye has improved at recent outings and Sean Veale has chosen this ride ahead of Purple Powahouse who looks to be the best of Alyson Wright's three runners. The nine-year-old has solid form over the course and distance and should be competitive again. Stable companion Whereverilaymyhat has been consistent of late and has a money chance.

Race Preview: Star In Motion was a maiden winner last time out but had consistent form leading up to that win that has been franked. Cardinal Chief won second time out for Garth Puller and looks progressive. He has a handy weight and this trip should suit. Run Forest Run was a late starter and obviously has some issues. He had his third run when shedding his maiden back in May but does appear to have some scope. El Dante surprised last time out. He has a big weight and a wide draw.

Race Preview: Wing Walker has made steady progress and is unbeaten on the poly but switches to the turf. He was doing his best work late last time out so the step up in trip should not be an issue. Sea Shanty has been in mustard form on the Highveld and has hardly moved in the handicap. He is over his optimum trip and will be a big threat to the first choice. King Of Numbers sees a rare foray into KZN by Brett Webber. The gelding has consistent recent Highveld form and has a plum draw. The blinkers come off Griffin Park as he steps up in trip with Sean Veale no doubt giving the feedback to MJ Odendaal.

Race Preview: School Policy made a smart local debut when a beaten favourite and the blinkers removed, but should improve on that showing. Drawn outside of her is Prom Queen who is holding form well. The draw is a concern. Happy Fortune has shown up well in two starts and is in a good space and must have a strong winning chance. Avernian Goddess is seldom out of the money and the step up in trip could bring out the best.
