			2 Raging Moon 0:59.83

Race Preview: Bombardier Boy found market support on debut and finished a close-up second. With that run under his girth one can expect further improvement. Austrian Beauty takes on males but has come well for her new stable. She should make another bold bid from the best of the draw. Capricious Miss disappointed last run after a much improved previous showing on the poly. She needs a repeat of that effort. Smart Star starts for her new stable with first time blinkers and is one to watch in the market.

Race Preview: Debutante Ovation Star comes from a strong stable and does not have to be too good to win here. Kali Bwana has shown some ability and should show in this line-up. Dee Day pops up on occasion. Back to a sprint on the poly she can feature. Chimes At Midnight is better than her last run and has a money chance. The Scarlet Cat has shown little to date but tries blinkers for the first time in her poly debut and has a light weight.

Race Preview: Xiphos has been much improved on the poly and first time blinkers. The step up in trip should suit and he has a strong chance in a weak maiden field. O Space O has been disappointing of late but did show some ability early in his career. The blinkers are back on. Captain Frank has had two starts on the poly and steps up in trip. On pedigree he should enjoy the extra. Susurrando was not far back on debut and should improve on that showing although he does have a deep draw to contend with.

Race Preview: Visiting Rejuvenate has shown her best recent form on the poly and a repeat of that effort could see her home. Red Lhasa has had two starts for her new stable and ran a smart race first up from a wide draw. She should be involved in the finish. Fine Wine is lightly raced but she stays the trip, goes well on the poly and was close-up last run on the turf. Call Me Harriet is better than her last two. She gets full-on blinkers and a 4kg claimer aboard.

Race Preview: The Shepherd is coming to hand slowly and looks about ready to show his best. Mocha Blend takes on males and returns from a break and has not been out since July. She would prefer it a touch further but has a touch of class and goes well on the poly. Sign Of Fate takes on useful opposition but has a light weight from a plum draw and can feature. There should be very little between stable companions Ingqwele and Officer In Command. The former is 0.5kg better off in the handicap and has the better draw so could be the pick of the pair. Callan Murray was unlikely to make the weight on Ingqwele

Race Preview: Princess Goldie has been tumbling down the ratings and is down in class so makes plenty of appeal. Mountainsofthemoon was a good second last run over a sprint with the blinkers and tongue-tie removed. The blinkers are back on over a more suitable trip and she appears to enjoy the poly. Schipole was touched off in a tight finish last time out. Of concern is that she did not feature in her poly debut. Mrsglittersparkles made a promising seasonal debut. She shed her maiden on the poly and does look to have improvement to come.

Race Preview: School Policy took on slightly stronger last time out. The switch to the poly could bring out the best. Ilha Da Orange has improved in blinkers and her last two wins have come on the poly. She got a five-point jump in the handicap for her last win but has 5.5kg less to shoulder. Purple Flower has a deep draw to contend with but loves the poly and has a handy galloping weight. Emerald Green made sudden improvement last run but a repeat performance from the best of the draw could see her go one better.

Bless Me Fred is a bit of a Hollywoodbets Scottsville specialist but has been in good form over the trip of late and the switch to poly could see him holding form. Ibhele has been dropping in the ratings and now also takes a drop in class. Not one to leave out of any calculations. Catavar is in good form and over his best trip. He also goes well on the poly.
