Race Preview: Dark Winter (9) has some solid form in features. Justin Snaith tried her over further last run but back over a Scottsville sprint she could have the measure of this field. Paul Lafferty has a much more experienced jockey aboard Arjuna (1) who made a promising debut over course and distance. Ayuwi Yuwi (3) is sure to come on from her debut effort while Lady Eli Mo (5) was much improved in blinkers last run and has a 4kg claimer aboard for Weiho Marwing.

Race Preview: French Flame (1) has made steady improvement for Dean Kannemeyer and although this is his sixth start the extra furlong should be in his favour from a plum draw. Parisian Walkway (7) won well second time out when stepped up to a mile. Alec Laird is a rare visitor to any market support must be respected. Spirit Of Levana (6) shows some promise winning at her second start. She gets the sex allowance and a useful 4kg claimer so her chances cannot be written off. Stable companion Commanding (3) ran no sort of race in the Gr1 Gold Medallion and is another to watch in the betting.

Race Preview: Silver Savage (2) has been knocking on the door for some time now but Mark Dixon has put him back to a sprint with blinkers which could do the trick. Trippi T (7) has issues but has been a model of consistency. If not pushed too hard in the finish he could finally shed his maiden. Isiqalaba (1) was much improved in blinkers last run at long odds in his first start for Peter Muscutt. Muscutt has kept him to a sprint and he can show further improvement. World Pharoah (6) has not been far behind in his three starts and should put in another good effort for Kom Naidoo.

Race Preview: Mc Dazzler (7) fell foul of the iniquitous TCO2 testing when odds-on for his last intended start but the switch to the turf should not be a problem. My Boy Lollipop (5) found one too good for him in the well supported Definitely Yes on debut and Frank Robinson will be hoping that he can go one better over a furlong further. Ombudsman (6) made a smart debut for Sean Tarry where he did find some market support. He will enjoy the extra and the experience should count in his favour. Magma Magic (2) has not been far back at recent outings and can finish in the money.

She should much prefer this trip and any market support must be respected. Laugh Till I Cry (2) started favourite in a sprint debut for Glen Kotzen and was not far back when sent over a mile at her nest start. She is sure to improve on that showing. I Won't Give Up (4) has putting two promising sprints for Paul Lafferty. She has been rested but given that she has been stepped up in trip suggests that she is fit and ready. State Secret (3) has her first local run after making her debut in the Cape and steps up to a mile.

His pedigree suggests that he will see out the extra comfortably. Burning Man (5) was much improved in blinkers when stepped up in trip and should have a good chance in this line-up. Stable companion James Fitzjames (8) showed up well when runner-up on the poly but disappointed on the turf next time out. This trip should suit.

He will have a big chance. Royal Swan Master (5) ran Flag Man to within four lengths at his penultimate start and was a close-up second on the poly last run for Dean Kannemeyer.

Race Preview: United Nation (10) was possibly out-classed in the Gr1 Gold Medallion but he was so far back that is may prove best to ignore that run from Glen Kotzen's charge although he does take on some useful opposition. Licence To Thrill (6) has gone close over course and distance and is better off in the weights with the likes of Voldemort (8) and Winter Waves (7) who both have decent recent form. The blinkers stay on and he could start at decent odds. Celtic Chief (2) has come good since arriving in KZN. His last two starts have been in the soft and with firmer going he should be competitive.

Race Preview: Rafeef's Choice (1) has been holding form and was second best behind Khethiwe's Destiny that was well fancied in the Gr2 Golden Slipper on Saturday so keep an eye on that form. Shanta's Pride (12) seldom runs a bad race and goes well this course and distance. With a 4kg claimer up she could make it home for Peter Muscutt. Kailene (4) disappointed when favourite last time out after Michael Roberts dropped her in class. She meets a similar field here and can make amends. Maggie Smith (11) is something of a course and distance specialist and has a good money chance.
