Race Preview: Gelsomina looked to be mounting a challenge when carried out by the eventual winner last time. She showed she can do it on the poly as well and should have a big say from the same fair barrier. Watch out for Highveld-based filly Little Lady who was not far off the wire when making her poly debut. She has now secured draw No 1 and this longer trip is likely to suit. Guten Tag rates another serious contender. The widest drawn filly in the race, she was eye catching when coming from far back when not beaten far by more experienced rivals. But she will be making her poly debut.

Race Preview: Fabulous showed maturity beyond her years when winning her handicap debut after a slow start, beating hard-knocking sorts. She has been given time off and with maturity could make more improvement. Ice Sunsatation was allowed to dictate matters and ended up winning a nice race. If she brings the form to the poly she could be hard to peg back again. Danse Milord has been trying different things but the drop to 1600m could be what she is looking for. Feeling Groovy stepped up on her form to win convincingly and with Let It Snow who had an off day last time must be respected.

Race Preview: Lightly raced Sing For Winter has had two races on the poly and she impressed in both. She could be underrated still. Boogie Shoes was also impressive and she too could be on the up. However, she seems to need things to go her way. Cataleya Summer ran a decent race in her post-maiden race but more importantly, much improved on her previous race on this surface. She should enjoy the extra distance this time. She's Not Easy found her last race short and should run a better race (from gate No 1). You Deserve It has disappointed but has also drawn well and may pop up.

Race Preview: Straight Up was impressive last week and if in the same mood can follow up. Boundless Bash appeared a bit unlucky not to get his head in front when switching back to this surface. He should see out the longer distance on pedigree. Banzai Pipeline has no stamina issues and is holding form well. However, he will need a good pace. Ibutho gave signs he could be coming back to form last time. Captain Who was not disgraced over this distance on the turf and may prefer it on the poly.

Race Preview: It could be between Quanabi and Bright Star. Both are three-year-old fillies with improvement to come and the former did run a cracker when second to Shaken Not Stirred who re-opposes but needs to maintain consistency. Bright Star won as she liked over a sprint distance but could be even better over the longer trip. Perfect Appeal is another bred to enjoy 1400m even though having primarily campaigned over shorter. She could be the dark horse again. Gimme A Lullaby and Hatta have drawn well enough to earn prizes. More can upset.

Race Preview: Joshua Hotsnake is holding form and ready to notch up another win. He races for the Wendy Whitehead yard which has been in red-hot form and from draw No 2 could be the one. Movie Magic has run second four times in a row and would be deserving. On collateral form it could get close between the two. Purple Operator just got up to beat Movie Magic last time and looks capable of going in again. Gimme A Rainbow and Hallerbos aren't without chances but will have their work cut out from wide gates. Fiery Duke could settle better over this shorter trip.
