RACE 1: BIG RACING WEEKEND ON 10 AND 11 JUNE APPRENTICE HANDICAP

Harry With Style

Van Gerwen

Sharrabang

Van Gerwen was denied by the narrowest of margins at Ripon earlier this month and he should not be dismissed off the same mark, but HARRY WITH STYLE made a pleasing switch to turf when scoring at Bath last time out and shades the vote. He has gone up 10lb for that success, but Adam Tracey negates half of that rise with his 5lb claim, so the gelded son of Dutch Art would be foolish to dismiss. Sharrabang and High Security are others worthy of consideration.

RACE 2: COTTINGHAM CLAIMING STAKES

Patasola

Lady Of The Garr

Lastingham

In a contest lacking depth, a tentative vote is given to PATASOLA, who has proven to be capable of better than her most recent outing at Haydock suggests. She drops considerably in class from that run and looks the one to side with. Any market support would be significant for the unraced Lady Of The Garr, while Lastingham is another to bear in mind.

RACE 3: GIVE RACING A TRY HANDICAP

Beltane

Special Mayson

Ugo Gregory

BELTANE has gone up 5lb following a facile success over a mile at Musselburgh last month and he looks the one to beat on his stable debut for Mick Appleby. He does have to shoulder joint-top weight for this run, though, so Special Mayson should not be taken lightly back up in trip following a staying-on third over 6f most recently. Ugo Gregory is another to consider dropping in distance.

RACE 4: SKIDBY RESTRICTED MAIDEN STAKES (GBB RACE)

Man Of A'An Sidney's Son Dance Angel

Narrowly denied over this distance at Redcar last time out, MAN OF A'AN must hold every chance if building on that effort for his in-form connections. He should have too much for Sidney's Son, who has been runner-up on his last two starts on the all-weather. Dance Angel improved from first to second start when runner-up at Wolverhampton and is another to consider.
